

Volunteer opportunities with the RFU

We're looking for people that are passionate about keeping players in the game and looking for opportunities to develop their CV by working with the RFU, to become GameFinders in 2021.

The GameFinder programme aims to ensure a smooth transition for players playing rugby at university, into the club game. GameFinders will work with local clubs, university staff and the RFU to create club links, and enhance current links, to make sure every player has a place to play rugby during and after university.

Key responsibilities include:

- Build relationships with current students at your university
- Initiate and develop key relationships with university sport staff, cluster officers and local club representatives
- Direct students that would like to play more rugby to local clubs
- Stay in contact with graduates to help them find a club that's right for them

Benefits to you:

- England Rugby Store vouchers
- Develop your network of contacts
- The opportunity to enhance your CV by working with a National Governing Body
